

Albatros Backup Service

Information

In the history of mankind knowledge has always been power. In the modern world data is that knowledge and he who manages, stores and enhances that data effectively is king. An effective, well co-ordinated database in the golf club environment is essential and the very foundation for a reliable business as well as providing nothing but the very best customer service and care.

This information, this primary need and concern of your golf club has taken time and money to produce and therefore deserves to be guaranteed the highest possible data security. Should a database loss occur due to an unforeseen but irreparable error then the consequences for the golf club could be significant. At this point more time and further expenses would be required to restore the data continuance. Taking into account this very important need, Albatros has developed a uniquely individual service for their customers – The Albatros Backup Service. The Albatros Backup Service provides the customer with data and future security specifically designed for the golf club in which a database protection backup is done at regular intervals to an external, extremely secure data-protected server. Restoration of this data for any reason is available quickly, around the clock and is always possible.
